COAL MINERS GO ON STRIKE

CHINESE BATTLE DETECTIVES

2 HUNDRED WALK OUT PITTSBURG KANSAS

(By Associated Press)
PITTSBURG, Kan., Feb. 5.—The first strike of Kansas coal miners was called officially by the district board union today, after the passage of the industrial court law went into effect. Two hundred coal miners were called out by the district board, headed by Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas Miners' union.

The calling of the strike is considered in mining circles here a challenge by Howat to the state. Howat and his fellow union officers were sent to jail by Judge Curran last summer when they refused to obey orders to appear before the industrial court as witnesses. Controversy over wages was the direct cause of the present strike.

MISS JANE HOWSEN, of the Tonopah postoffice staff, returned this morning from Los Angeles, where she visited the past month. T. W. CHAPMAN, deputy state superintendent, was an arrival from Las Vegas this morning.

DIFFICULTIES TO JAP SETTLEMENT NOW APPARENT

(By Associated Press)
TOKIO, Feb. 5.—Negotiations relative to the California question between the United States and Japan may encounter difficulties which will delay final settlement, according to newspapers here, but comments are vague and based on conjectures as the text of the preliminary accord between the two countries has not yet been made public.

Both Hochi Shimbun and Kolumin Shimbun lay emphasis upon the apparent fact that the gentlemen's agreement has been made stringent as a return for the according of greater rights to Japanese in America.

These newspapers seem to think the new agreement will function even if the nations fail to negotiate a treaty. Chuo Shimbun, the government organ, says, however, that it is authorized to announce the impression is without foundation and the revised agreement will be valid only in case a new treaty be ratified.
